

Cheryl Swensen says, "I love sharing my love for books through creating interesting displays with my creative assistant/co-worker Mark in the Children's wing of the library."

Eli Robertson sent in this picture of himself and his K9.

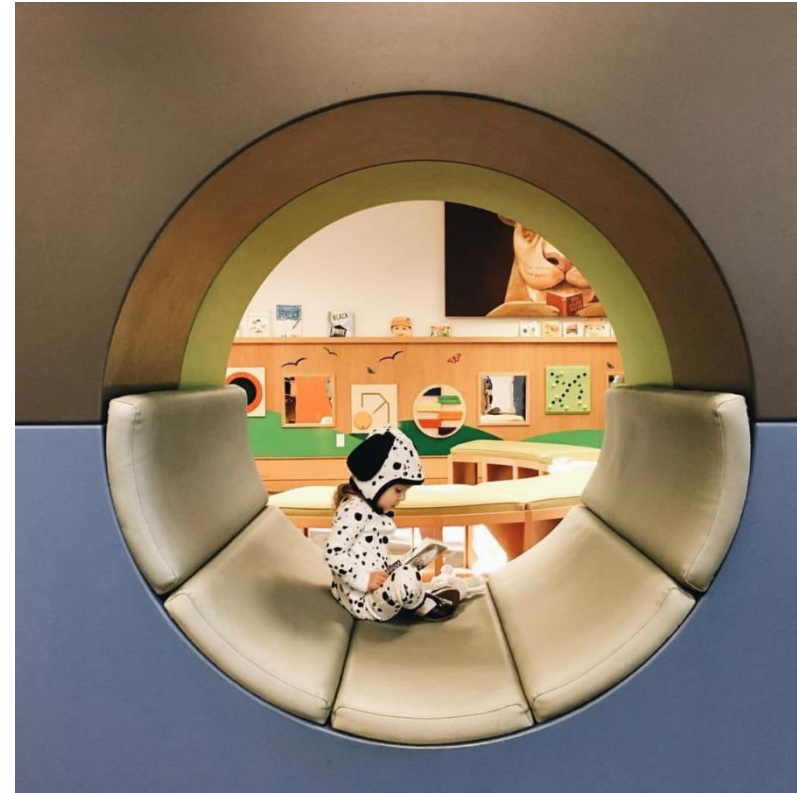

Emily Pratt says, “Here is one example of what I love the most about my job. The funny personalities, the cuddles, and the cuteness of all the pets! Happy Valentine's Day.”

Justin Gaines says, “One of the things I love about my job are the views I can get from the top of my truck. (47’ high)”

Justin Skillings says, "I love working in the mechanical rooms ,to keep heat in the building in the winter and air conditioning in the summertime."

Rita Christensen submitted a picture of the KidZone in the library.

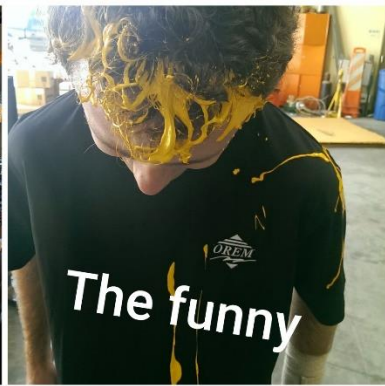

Robert Yeoman says, "I love being able to make Orem Parks a better place for all to enjoy and love."

Sadie Lopez says, "I look forward to kids camp every year. This is my favorite part of my job."

The Friends

The funny

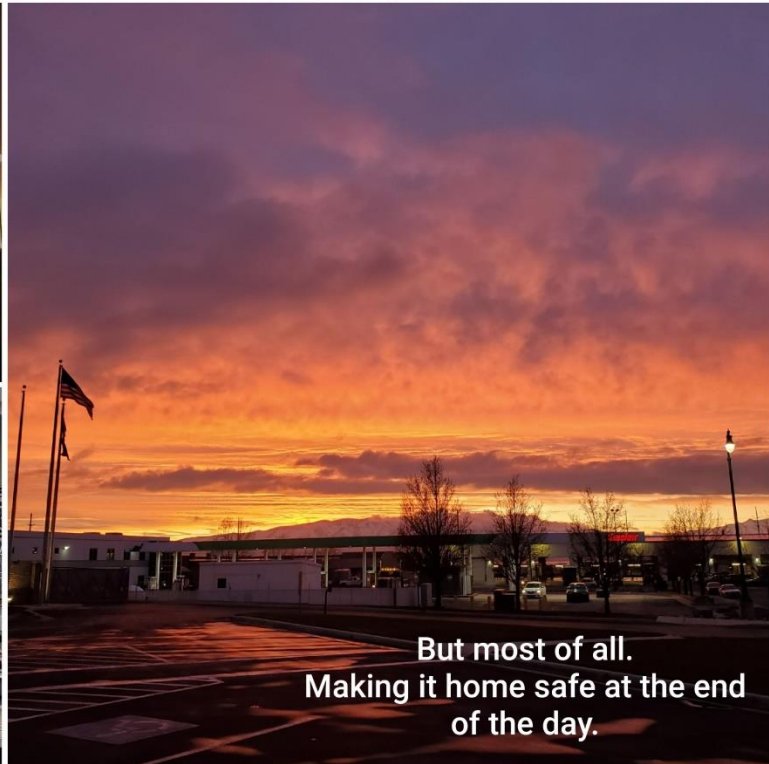

The memories

Late nights

The Pranks

But most of all.
Making it home safe at the end of the day.

Trinity Olsen submitted what she loves about her job.

Everett Black

From: donotreply@orem.org
Sent: Thursday, January 16, 2020 4:00 AM
To: Everett Black
Subject: City of Orem - Payment Stub Notification [01/16/2020] (6769)

Everett Black,

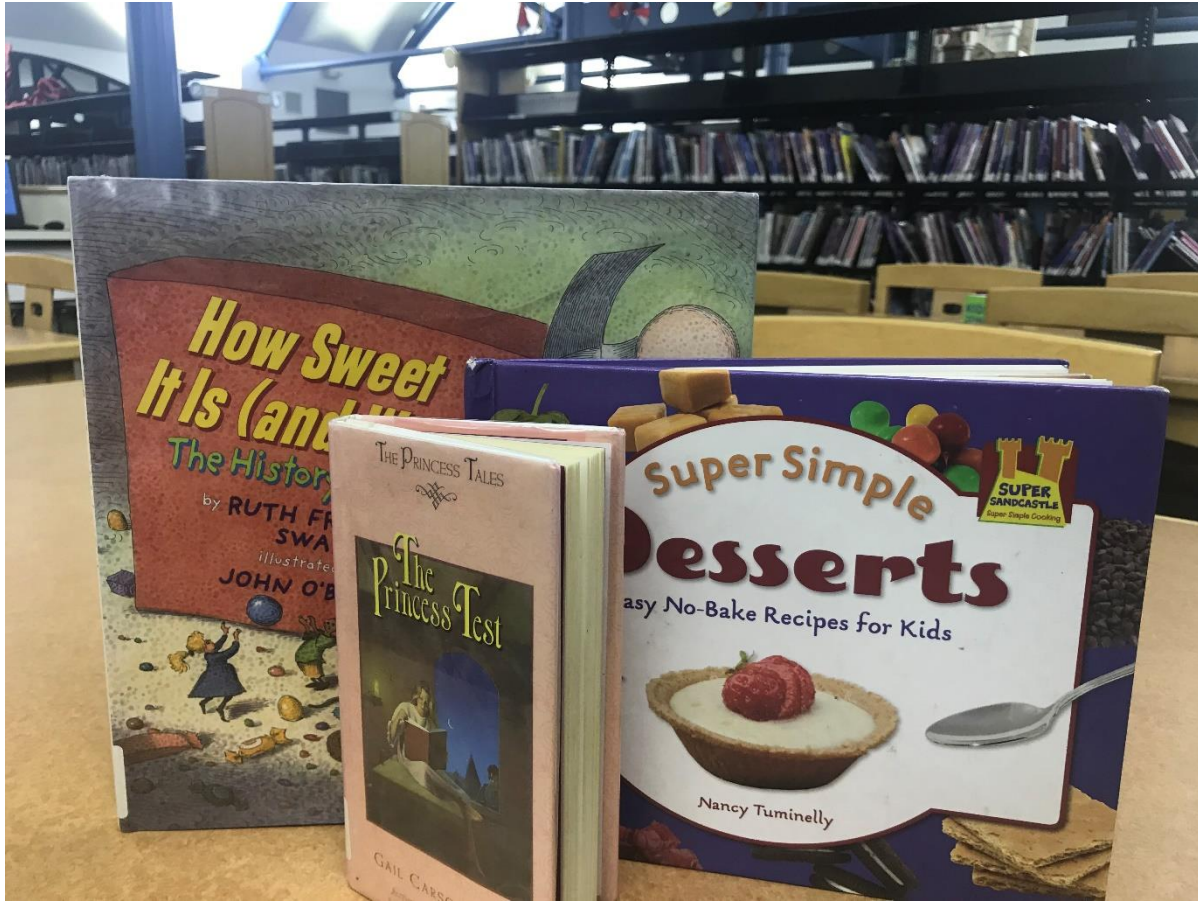

A new pay stub of [01/16/2020] is now available. You can view your pay stubs @ <http://timecard.orem.org>.

If you have any questions, call Shirley 229-7001.

Everett Black says, "I've been thinking about the things that I love most about working here.

I thought about my commute (a 13 minute walk or a 4 minute drive), I thought about my co-workers and, finally, this morning I had an epiphany.

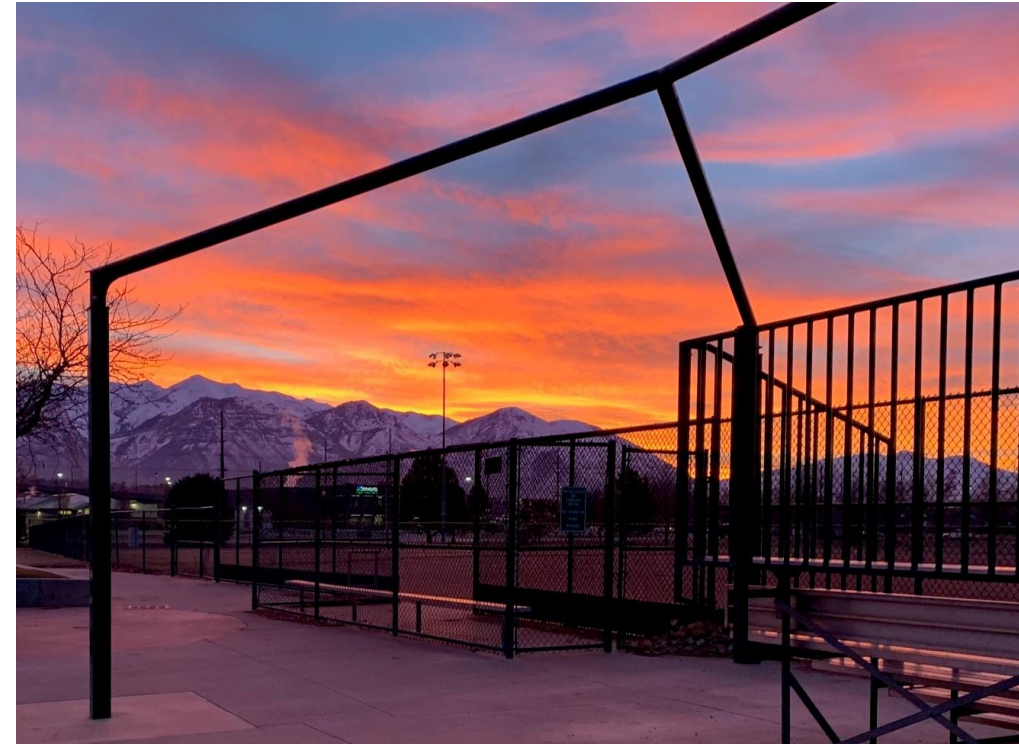

Attached is what I love most about working here and I am confident I am not the only one..."

Shelley Heaps says, "What I love most about my job is helping the people of Orem find the sweet, sweet books they crave."

Gena Bertelsen says, "I love being able to make these sweet seniors laugh! This is a "Thelmie", not quite a selfie, that I took last year at our annual Grammy's award show."

Valerie Maker says, “What I love most about my job are my awesome co-workers. This isn’t even all of them. I wish I had a picture of everyone that could convey how much fun it is to work with them, and how caring they are!! (My supervisor would totally have brought me cheesecake this morning, if I had asked.) Also, the patrons are great, too: funny and nice and it is great to see them every day. I would be here 24/7 if I could. :D”

Ela Wolfgramm says, “I work for the parks dept and love working outside especially when I get to see sunrises like this!”

Giles Demke – Cleaning Wastewater

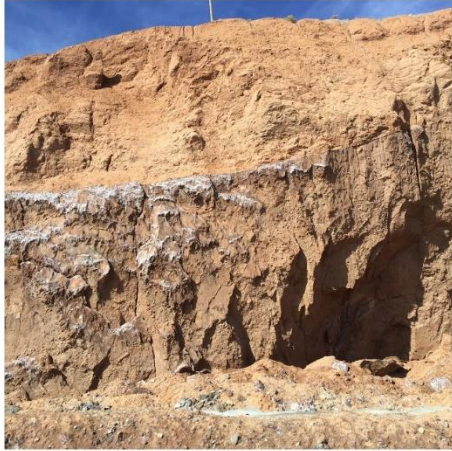

Jennifer Sisoutham says, “There are 10 things (people really) I love most about my job and they are pictured in my attachments (exception of Lori as she was out on medical leave). When one person is out sick or on vacation it really makes a difference in our day. We are missing a piece of our work family and it really shows. We miss their laugh or their smile or their expertise even on the little things. It makes a world of a difference when you enjoy all the people you work with and see every day. We are always willing to help each other out or if we don't know the answer to a question someone will chime in who does know the answer. The picture shows how dedicated we were in getting our Halloween spirit on as a group. I have really enjoyed moving to this department because I've gained a bigger work family and ever lasting friendships.”

Reed Price says, "You can't beat the great, hard-working employees of Public Works!"

Holly Grierson says, "I love planning and executing service projects for teens! This photo is from the library's January Teen After Hours program, where we partnered with the local non-profit group Observe and Serve to make sleeping mats for refugees."

Cody Steggell says, "It's a collage of the PW Streets Section taking a tour of Redmond's salt mine just before winter. One of the things I love the most about my job is being able to bring and reward our group with this kind of activity. This particular tour gave our group some insight to where the road salt comes from and the process it takes to get it to our shops. It also included shooting at dynamite and barbecue. It was a great bonding experience."

Keri Rugg says, "Working here in Orem has been the best decision of my career. From the beautiful scenery, to seeing Public Works on a Sunday morning working, to the great activities that build comradery with all of us. I love building a better Orem with all of you."

